

SALLY NADOR

Single B flat French horn

I live in Wilmette, Illinois, a Chicago suburb; and I'm a psychologist, on staff at several hospitals in Chicago. I play horn in the Wilmette Community Band and in the VA National Medical Music Group, a "pick-up" orchestra that performs twice a year at different locations in the United States. I've a very amateur horn player!

A wonderful repairman, Dana Hofer, removed dents and added new bumpers and strings to the horn this morning; and he didn't charge me. As for the history of this particular horn, it's a single B flat horn with a trigger for stopped notes. I bought it from my horn teacher, Paul Navarro, retired second horn from the Chicago Lyric. Paul had intended to use it as a practice horn at his second home in Indiana. Finally, I included horn oil, lanolin for the slides and extra string although the new, yellow string is fishing line that will never break!
